

PINEY BRIDGE WILL OPEN UP NEW SECTION

Importance of Structure
Soon to Be Built.

NOTABLE REALTY DEALS

Annual Exhibit of Washington Architectural Club Opens Tomorrow.

Owners of property in the far north-western part of the city, beyond Florida avenue, are congratulating themselves on the fact that the Senate has inserted the item for the Piney Branch bridge in the District appropriation bill, taking it for granted that it will have an important influence on the development of the territory contiguous to the extension of Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets. The bridge will open up the valley of Piney Branch and will make possible the further extension of Sixteenth street to the District boundary, an improvement which all who want to see a straight boulevard from the White House to the District line ardently hope for.

The extension of Eighteenth street, which, it is hoped, Congress will authorize before long, will carry in its wake an even greater factor in the building up of the northwestern suburbs, for along this thoroughfare the Washington Electric Railway Company is expected to continue its Connecticut avenue line which now stops at Park street, a few blocks south of Piney Branch. The extension of Fourteenth street, work on which will begin before long, will be followed almost immediately by the extension of the Capital Traction road, and thus two street railways will cut into a territory which now is dependent upon only one, the Chevy Chase line. Inasmuch as several new subdivisions are to be opened up this spring in this section, among them a portion of Argyle, Thomas Blagden's beautiful estate, the importance of these improvements can be readily appreciated.

Suburban Improvement.
The Chevy Chase Land Company has under consideration plans looking to the improvement of that portion of its large holdings lying on the east side of and including the subdivision of Fernwood. These plans, the improvements mentioned in The Times last Sunday, but information furnished since then indicates that they will not be as extensive as then reported. (It should be stated that that report was based on information furnished by one of the persons mentioned to draw plans for a portion of the contemplated improvements.) If the project now in contemplation by the Chevy Chase Land Company is carried out, a sum approximating $120,000 will be expended on the creation of lawn along the entire line and the erection of from twenty to twenty-five villas. This improvement will be of great value, not merely by reason of its intrinsic importance, but because of the inevitable effect it is bound to exercise upon the upbuilding of properties in that vicinity.

Historic Old Dwelling.
The impending demolition of the old houses at the southeast corner of Twenty-first and F streets northwest, and the erection there of twelve modern dwellings on the land recently sold through L. Walter West, and William Rheem & Henney Company, and William Corcoran Hill to Osterman & Butler, will remove an old residence to which attaches some historic interest. The original owner of the corner house, which was built about the year 1800, was Gabriel Duvall, of Prince George county, Md., who was President of the Supreme Court of the United States. The house originally contained only six rooms and a cellar kitchen, in which can be seen even now the remains of a Dutch brick oven. There are a number of houses in that vicinity having an interesting history, among them the one near the corner of Eighteenth and G streets, in which Salmon P. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury and later Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, is said to have taught school.

Architectural Club Exhibit.

The fifth annual exhibition of the Washington Architectural Club will open in the hemicycle of the Corcoran Art Gallery, Monday evening. There is a fairly good showing of perspectives and interior plans, but taken in its entirety the exhibition is not nearly equal to those of former years. Washington makes a good showing, among the drawings being those of Wood, Donn & Deming for the new Senate Building; Marsh & Peter's plans for the Freedman's Hospital, and B. Stanley Simmons' drawings for the new Police Court.

Plans for Double Dwelling.

Harding & Upman, architects, are preparing plans for a double residence for Charles and Edward Murray, on Milwaukee street, Ingleside. The lot on which the house is to be built has a frontage of 36 feet and a depth of 60, and the dwelling is to be in Colonial style with wide porch running the entire width of the front. It is to be two stories in height with attic and each section is to contain eight rooms with further accommodations in the attic. The same architects are drawing plans for an addition to the residence of W. J. Unger, on Newark street, Cleveland, which is to contain a library, sitting room, and two chambers.

The Southern Printers' Supply Company, 420 Tenth street northwest, contemplates the erection of a four-story warehouse, for which Architects Brown & Brown are preparing the plans. Architect Adam H. Groff has just completed a set of drawings for the erection of four two-story houses for Mrs. Tanne, on Brightwood avenue. Mrs. Tanne will have a front porch across a depth of 47, with a wide porch across the entire front and a two-story porch in the rear. Each house will have seven rooms and bath. The fronts are to be of red brick laid in white mortar and the interior finishings will be of hardwood. The cost of this improvement will be about $12,000.

Real Estate Deals.

A real estate deal of present importance and of possibly still greater importance in the future is the purchase by Lewis Hopfenmaier of a plot of ground at the southeast corner of Eleventh and C streets northwest, containing about 10,000 square feet. The property was part of the Crusey estate, and the price paid was about $100,000. It is Mr. Hopfenmaier's intention to demolish the buildings on the property, just as soon as he can obtain possession, and to build a cold storage warehouse, to cost between $300,000 and $400,000. The only cold storage warehouse suitable for all purposes is that in the Center Market building, and it is Mr. Hopfenmaier's opinion that Washington has sufficient business to make the erection of such a warehouse of much larger proportions a profitable investment.

A tract of fifteen acres on the south side of Michigan avenue, on both sides of Fourth street extended, has been bought by P. J. Brennan, through R. W. Walker & Sons, from the Davidge estate, the price paid being $50,000. The land is directly opposite the Catholic University, adjoining on the west the property owned by the Dominican monks. It is understood that the real purchaser of the tract is another Catholic order, and that Mr. Brennan merely acted as intermediary, and furthermore, that the erection of buildings involving the expenditure of something like $150,000 is contemplated.

Extensive building improvements will soon go forward in the vicinity of Lincoln Park, where Humphrey & Palmer have bought from Gen. John Eaton lots at the northeast corner of Eleventh and C streets, and North Capitol avenue, on which they intend to erect a number of two-story and cellar houses. They have also bought five lots at Eighth and C streets southeast, which are to be similarly improved.

The F. H. Smith Company, 200 South Washington street, has just completed the erection of twelve modern dwellings on the land recently sold through L. Walter West, and William Rheem & Henney Company, and William Corcoran Hill to Osterman & Butler, will remove an old residence to which attaches some historic interest. The original owner of the corner house, which was built about the year 1800, was Gabriel Duvall, of Prince George county, Md., who was President of the Supreme Court of the United States. ## General Morteza Khan Is Stopped by Mulligan

New York Policeman Started to Arrest Minister Plenipotentiary From Shah of Persia. Officer Was Afterward Discreet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—While riding along the Driveway at a greater speed than the law allows, his excellency, Gen. Morteza Khan, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from the Shah of Persia, ran afoul of one Mulligan, a cop. With his excellency was Mesrobov Nevtan Khan, secretary of the Persian legation.

The only original Khan came to town a few days ago and has spent his moments seeing New York. This morning Secretary Khan proposed an automobile ride along Riverside Drive and the trip started forthwith. Up to the drive the devil wagon sped and the envoy was delighted.

"More speed," he cried.

The devil wagon flew and all was going fine when Mounted Policeman Mulligan galloped alongside and halted the chauffeur.

"What's up?" asked the envoy.

"I think we are under arrest," replied the secretary.

"What! Pinch a Khan! Never! Tell him who I am," commanded the envoy.

Secretary Khan unwound himself from among the levers and brakes and getting down on earth said: "Officer, this is Gen. Morteza Khan, the representative of the imperial court of Teheran. He is—"

"Never mind any more," said the dazed Mulligan, "you can go."

And Gen. Morteza Khan, his excellency from Teheran, drawing his cape more closely about his beard, sped on.

DR. WESTON BRUNER CLOSES SERMON SERIES

In spite of the extreme cold weather large congregations have gathered Sunday after Sunday to hear Dr. Weston Bruner, pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, E street near Seventh southwest, in the series of sermons he has been preaching. The morning series was on "Seven Christ-Messages to Washington Churches."

The night series, "Seven Great Tragedies of the Bible," he will close both series Sunday and will also baptize the last of additions from the meetings held in January.

At the close of the morning service the men of the church and congregation will meet in the Sunday school room to effect the organization of brotherhood.

STEAMER FINLAND GROUNDS OUTSIDE SANDY HOOK

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Feb. 18.—The Red Star liner Finland, sailing for Antwerp, under command of Captain Apfeld, and in charge of a Sandy Hook pilot, passed out at 12:05 o'clock and shortly afterward grounded on the south side of Bayside Channel.

It is supposed the high wind and strong current down the Swath Channel carried the vessel too far over to the south and made her take bottom.

As it was near low water, Captain Apfeld decided to await flood tide before trying to float the vessel. It will be high water at Sandy Hook at 6:50 o'clock this evening, but it is expected the Finland will resume her voyage before that time.
